'Half-a-Loaf' Tax Bill Ready For Congress', JFK's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A half-a-loaf tax bill, giving President Kennedy the business-boosting change he recommended but less than the counterbalancing revenue he asked, was ready today for Congress and the White House to consider.

There was every indication the House, the Senate and the President would accept the measure. It was hammered out in four days of work, running into Tuesday night, by a conference committee charged with reconciling the different bills passed by the two chambers. The House will act first, one day next week.

The heart of the measure, a tax credit of more than $1 billion for businesses willing to spend money on modernizing and improving their equipment, was retained. The administration has earnestly pleaded for this investment credit, designed as a quick shot in the arm for the U.S. economy and, in the long pull, as a means of helping U.S. businesses match their modernized — and tax-favored — competitors abroad.

The big casualty, doomed by the Senate, was the plan to withhold income taxes on interest and dividends. The Treasury had hoped to collect by this means as much as $780 million a year in tax revenue now lost because of non-reporting.

The Senate, bombarded with adverse mail, struck out the withholding provision the House had voted. The conference committee went along, but in accepting the Senate substitute, a requirement for more elaborate reporting by the firms paying interest and dividends, the conferees directed the Treasury to report annually on the effectiveness of this device, estimated to be worth $240 million a year in recouped revenue.

Under the investment credit provision, a company could deduct directly from its taxes, subject to some limitations, up to 7 per cent of what it spent for equipment and machinery. Utilities would be held to a 3 per cent deduction. The conference committee made the provision retroactive to Jan. 1, 1962, thus greatly increasing the over-all revenue cost of the bill for its first year.

Congressional sources estimated the first year net loss at $1.3 billion, leveling off thereafter at $545 million a year. Kennedy's original proposal was estimated by the treasury to net an increase of $600

Would Force Enrollment of Negro Student

Governor Expected To Fly To School To Halt Admittance

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—With the possibility mounting that federal troops will be used to enforce court desegregation edicts, Negro James H. Meredith plans to try today for the third time to enroll at the white University of Mississippi.

Gov. Ross Barnett—who has twice defied federal orders in refusing to let Meredith enroll at Ole Miss—was expected to fly to the campus at Oxford and attempt to block the 29-year-old Korean war veteran's admission. Barnett refused to allow Meredith to register with the State College Board at Jackson Tuesday. Four hours later the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals directed the 64-year-old governor to appear in court in New Orleans Friday to face contempt charges.

Ole Miss registrar Robert B. Ellis said he would be in his office to register Meredith if he appeared.

Ellis said he would act under direct orders from the State College Board and federal courts. Barnett repeatedly has vowed to go to jail rather than desegregate the university where he received his law degree with honors. He has also threatened to close Ole Miss.

A source close to the Appeals Court in New Orleans said it appeared federal troops would be necessary to enforce the judicial decrees.

"The court has gone as far as it can go," said the source.

Troops from the 101st Airborne Division were ordered into Little Rock, Ark., to enforce court-directed public school desegregation there in 1957. The federal action came after Gov. Orval E. Faubus called out the Arkansas National Guard to prevent nine Negroes from enrolling at Little Rock Central High School.

In Washington, Justice Department sources said the department was determined to carry through with Meredith's enrollment. They refused to forecast the department's next moves but they did not rule out the use of federal troops.

Barnett brushed aside a directive from the circuit court restraining him and virtually all of the state's peace officers from interfering with Meredith's registration.

Barnett met Meredith at the door of the State College Board office. He refused to accept copies of the court's directives and then read a proclamation asserting the state's sovereignty in the case.

Last Thursday Barnett personally took over powers as Ole Miss registrar and refused to let Meredith enroll at the university.

Meredith left the State Office

Printers Strike At Alliance Review

ALLIANCE — Printers at the Alliance Review staged a walk-out at the plant at 9:30 this morning and it was uncertain whether the daily newspaper would be published today.

A spokesman for the Alliance Typographical Union, Local No. 497, affiliated with the International Typographical Union said negotiations have broken down between union and management after seven months of talks.

A number of issues is involved but the main point, the spokesman said, involves a demand by the union for a 37½-hour week with pay for 40 hours.

Involved in the walkout are 28 printers. Present pay for union members is $3 an hour. Officials of the Review Publishing Co. said the company would have a statement later in the day and that every effort would be made to publish today.

Griffith Gets Top Court Post To Succeed Judge Bell on Ohio Bench

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle appointed Appellate Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren today to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Judge Griffith succeeds Supreme Court Judge James F. Bell of London whose recent resignation is effective Oct. 8.

Judge Griffith will serve on the high court until a successor is elected and qualified in the November election in 1964. Bell's term expires Dec. 31, 1966. His term started Jan. 1, 1961.

The new Supreme Court judge graduated from Oberlin College and received his law degree from Western Reserve University.

After practicing law in Warren, he became city solicitor and later became Trumbull County prosecutor. He was elected Common Pleas Court judge in 1930 and served for 19 years.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche appointed him to the 7th District Court of Appeals in 1950. Appellate judges last week elected Judge Griffith chief justice of Ohio Courts of Appeal for 1963.

Judge and Mrs. Griffith have two sons and a daughter. Lynn B. Jr. is Trumbull County prosecutor and the other son David, is an assistant prosecutor.

The 7th Appellate District embraces 13 counties in northeastern Ohio. This district extends from Lake and Ashtabula counties on Lake Erie to Monroe and Noble counties to the south.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant commented that Judge Griffith will make a "very fine" addition to the court.

"He has had an invaluable experience on the court of common pleas and on the court of appeals. Furthermore, in the past I have assigned him to sit on this court on several occasions, and hence

Seen As Camouflaged Naval Base

Cuban-Soviet Port Pact Hit By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. defense sources said today they believe the port to be built in Cuba with Soviet assistance is a camouflage for a naval base which could threaten the Panama Canal.

They said a port equipped to overhaul, repair, and supply Soviet and Cuban trawlers could also serve as a support base for submarines and torpedo boats.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro unveiled the plans for a port in a television speech Tuesday. He didn't specify the location but a later communication announcing signing of the Soviet-Cuban agreement said the dock and facilities for between 115 and 130 medium trawlers would be in Havana Bay.

It was reported in Havana that Soviet crews would instruct Cubans in the use of Soviet trawlers and that the fleet ultimately would become the property of Cuba.

Many of the Soviet Union's 3,000 trawlers are anything but purely fishing craft. They are known to carry radar and other electronic equipment with which they have monitored U.S. missile test shots from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and have observed U.S. fleet maneuvers.

The small flotilla of Soviet trawlers which arrived in Havana last summer is equipped with electronic detection equipment.

Some military authorities said construction of a Soviet port in Cuba appears part of a worldwide plan to position Soviet naval power where it could pinch off key Allied shipping routes.

Castro announced the pact Tuesday, saying the Russians would furnish credits for building large docking and freezing facilities. He said the Soviet trawler fleet would have use of the facilities for at least 10 years.

Castro said in a television address the port facilities would provide headquarters for a joint Cuban-Soviet Atlantic fishing fleet.

Some Soviet trawlers arrived last summer and Castro reported then they would be turned over to the Cubans.

A Cuban commentator on a nationwide television broadcast declared the facilities would be "a Cuban port and Cuban property."

He ridiculed reports he said were circulating in Miami that Russians would control the port.

The commentator praised the Soviet Union for extending credits to finance more than half the cost of the 12-million peso project.

He said this contrasted with the trade policy of the United States before Castro came to power. He asserted the United States then was interested only in buying Cuban sugar and tobacco and tried to choke off Cuban rice production in favor of American producers.

A communique reported the fishing port would provide facilities for from 115 to 130 medium trawlers.

The communique said the port would include piers, refrigerators, an ice factory, supply depots, shops, a floating dock, fuel supply stations and a radio station.

(Washington estimates the Russians had from 125 to 140 trawlers in the North Atlantic this summer. Many have elaborate radio and electronic equipment and often show up at U.S. Naval maneuvers.)

Floating Dough Halts Battle Over Which Car To Buy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Parris wanted to buy one car. His wife wanted to buy another.

They argued Tuesday as they drove.

Suddenly Mrs. Parris gestured with the sack containing the family savings. "Buying that car," she said, speaking of her husband's choice, "would be like throwing money away."

Out the car window went the sack of money. It disappeared down a storm drain. In it, said Parris, was $2,500 in cash.

Parris slammed the car to a halt. Mrs. Parris jumped out, lunged for the money—and almost got stuck in the drain herself. They could see the sack, lying 15 feet away.

Parris called friends, sheriff's deputies and a road department crew to help him.

As they tried to reach the sack with sticks, a plumber's snake and a fishline, an attendant at a nearby gas station decided it was time to wash down his driveway with a hose. The water poured into a drain, down the drain, and to the sack.

As the would-be rescuers watched helplessly, the sack floated away.

Parris and his wife drove away in their old car.

The drive will begin Nov. 1, with a goal of $20,000.

With the state matching the county collection two-to-one, a successful campaign will mean $60,000 to establish and operate a psychiatric clinic at Lisbon for the benefit of both children and adults throughout the county.

Goals for 17 communities were set last week at a meeting of captains and chairmen. Quotas, which total $22,050, follow:

East Liverpool, $5,000; Salem, $5,000; Wellsville, $1,500; East Palestine $1,500; Columbiana, $1,500; Lisbon, $800; Leetonia, $750; Salineville, $400; Calcutta, $400; Homeworth, $300; Rogers, $300; West Point, $300; Fairfield Township, $300; Unity Township, $300; West Creek Township, $200 and Highlandtown, $200.

The drive is being sponsored by the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, with Probate Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool serving as general chairman. Atty. Bryce W. Kendall of Salem is campaign captain for the cities, and Jack Poznel of West Point is in charge of the rural areas. Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville is publicity chairman.

The Mental Health Association's annual meeting Oct. 29 at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon will be a fund drive kick-off dinner, according to Mrs. J. Donald Thompson of East Liverpool, president.

Dr. George P. Parkinson of Christ United Presbyterian Church, Canton, will be guest speaker. There will be election of directors, and final instructions for the following area chairmen:

Howard Freestone and George Wyer, Salem; Miss Luella Thompson, Mrs. R. J. Schiff and Mrs. Goldie Kidder, East Liverpool; William Shoub, Wellsville; Mrs. Lawrence Earl and Homer Stewart, Salineville; Mrs. Jack Poznel, West Point; Mrs. Arnold Green, Rogers.

Several Villages Destroyed

600 Feared Dead In Spanish Floods

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Flash floods and hurricane winds ripped overnight through a group of villages in a hilly region near Barcelona and a government spokesman said more than 600 persons are dead or missing.

The spokesman said 246 bodies have been recovered and 395 persons are unaccounted for.

Fresh thunderstorms continued across the area, where several hours of heavy rain and high winds smashed many homes and other buildings.

Officials said the death toll might rise.

Several villages, whose residents normally worked in textile plants near Barcelona, were almost wiped out by the floods, which followed months of dry weather.

The floods struck a few hours after the windup of a Barcelona religious festival, named Nuestra Señora de la Merced—Our Lady of Mercy—which runs for a week each fall. The event had included a song festival with entrants from many nations.

The victims included families who were sleeping. Their houses caved in and trapped them under the debris.

Barcelona was caught in a torrential downpour which quickly flooded the Ripoll and San Quirico rivers.

Rushing water toppled buildings and roared through streets.

Similar floods struck nearby towns.

At first, Barcelona people welcomed the rain because it was the first in nearly four months. But the downpour continued and about

JFK Receives Reduced Farm Program Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has received from Congress a new farm program containing about half of what he requested and denounced by a Republican leader as "bait in the trap" for tougher controls later.

The bill barreled through the Senate 52 to 41 Tuesday—an almost comfortable margin after its cliff-hanging five-vote victory in the House last week.

All 34 Republicans voting opposed the measure. They were joined by seven Democrats.

During five hours of debate the program was praised as realistic and fair, and condemned as a monstrosity and worse than no bill at all.

The administration has welcomed the measure as a step in the right direction.

Here is what the administration got and didn't get:

It got a new and permanent wheat program which it expects to be more effective in limiting production and stabilizing grower prices.

It got broadened authority to deal with problems of stagnating rural areas incapable of prospering in agriculture.

It failed to get a control program for feed grains. Congress approved a one-year extension of the present voluntary feed grain retirement program paying farmers to idle their land.

The wheat program is the administration's first major commodity legislative victory since it took office.

Strouss To Open New Store Oct. 1

Strouss Home Store at the corner of E. Pershing and S. Lundy Ave. will open Monday, announces Val P. Galletti, Salem manager of the Strouss-Hirshberg department stores.

The new one-floor store will be a re-location of the Strouss Appliance Center, now on S. Ellsworth Ave. In addition, the store will feature three lines being added by the company locally: Furniture, floor coverings and mattresses.

The Strouss-Hirshberg Co. has signed a long term lease with the Myers-Bushouser Corp. of Canfield for the white brick structure known as the Althouse Bldg. The new store, the third to be opened by Strouss-Hirshberg in Salem, will have a selling area of more than 12,000 square feet.

Interior remodeling of the building includes a combination of direct and indirect lighting; pastel plywood walls of yellow, turquoise and green with white ceiling; and floor covering of gold carpet (in the furniture sales area), mother of pearl tile (appliance sales area), and wood parquet (floor coverings section).

"We intend to give Salem a selection of merchandise you would find in any of the surrounding metropolitan shopping areas," declares Galletti, manager here for four and a half years. He says choice of the new store's location was made largely because of its proximity to the municipal parking lot, and he pointed out that most of the remodeling work was contracted locally.

Strouss-Hirshberg Co. first established a branch of the Youngstown company on S. Broadway in Salem in 1949. The company purchased the Golden Eagle Men's and Boys Store in 1956 and changed its location from the West side to the east side of Broadway.

Contractors employed in the new store building's remodeling were: J. G. Madden & Sons of East Palestine, Lester Kille, Free Ackerman, Ellyson Plumbing & Heating, Firestone Electric, Lodge Signs Co., Peoples Lumber Co. and Superior Wall Paper & Paint store.

Although the Strouss Home Store will open Monday morning, grand opening ceremonies are set for 7 p.m. Monday.

The First 2,717 Performances

Some of the brightest newspaper copy in months has come out of the closing this week of the record-setting musical, "My Fair Lady."

Although two other shows had longer runs on Broadway: "Life With Father" and "Tobacco Road", no show ever took in so much money or had brighter prospects of continuing to pay off handsomely as this one.

Everybody has his own feelings about the theme and music of "My Fair Lady." There may be some people who don't like anything about this show at all, but most people ranged from enthusiastic to ultra-enthusiastic. But it is not this that is producing the good writing about this particular show at this particular time.

It is, rather, the sentiment of witnessing the end of an enterprise that was designed to entertain the public and nothing more. "My Fair Lady" had no theme of social uplift — individual uplift but no broad purpose of helping mankind.

It was not mad at anybody or anything. It was all fun. The idea started in fun when George Bernard Shaw had it and was carried on in fun when Alan Jay Lerner and Fritz Loewe exploited it. The entertainers who appeared in it had fun. The audiences had fun. Everybody had fun, except a few people who became so involved they fell out over differences of opinion about backstage matters.

Aside from that, "My Fair Lady" was one of the bright spots of the theater in our time, a show everybody could enjoy. It's closing is a sentimental jolt for that reason. What a shame that fun should have to ring down a curtain on itself.

The solace is in the fact "My Fair Lady" will be going on for years off Broadway and in due time will be revived there perhaps for another 2,717 performances.

How Many Make It On Merit?

If President Kennedy's youngest brother Teddy took seriously all the things being said about his runaway victory in the Massachusetts primary for U.S. senator he would lose confidence in himself.

The universal supposition that the young man has not earned the right to run for the Senate, let alone be a senator, is not flattering. But perhaps being one of the realistic Kennedys, who regard politics as a game, with prizes going only to the winners, Teddy Kennedy is in a better position to look at himself clearly than his critics. He is being realistic, not they.

Of some of his critics already in public life and in the Senate itself he might well inquire whether they got there on their own merit, or because they were in the right place at the right time with the right name.

To all his critics he might comment that the essence of political success is opportunism—hoping that the juxtapositions of shape, color and feeling that create public ages will be favorable when the kaleidoscope is given the next turn. He had a lucky break in that respect.

And to observers who have been assuming his candidacy is part of an emerging dynasty that has put one brother in the White House, one in the office of attorney general, a brother-in-law at the head of the Peace Corp, another brother-in-law at the head of his Massachusetts campaign and the ensemble running like a well-oiled juggernaut, Teddy Kennedy might even be able to point out if he wanted to that the Kennedys lead their own lives.

Perhaps he saw his chance to move out and make a name for himself so he moved out and now has nothing between him and a seat in the U.S. Senate except the scion of another well-known Massachusetts family, the Lodges. And why, Teddy Kennedy may want to know, aren't people wondering about his opponent's qualifications to run for the U.S. Senate. Why just Teddy Kennedy's qualifications?

Medicare Issue Still In Doubt

President Kennedy's piping promise to Ohio Democrats to resume the fight for "medicare" next January is subject to revision, like all political promises.

The revision will be subject, in turn, to the congressional elections this year, when the "medicare" issue will be tested by candidates for the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Candidates who think there is important vote mileage in the issue will exploit it to the full extent of their vote-soliciting ability. If they win because of this issue, they will want to take a stand on it in the 88th Congress. If they conclude it either did not help them or didn't help them enough to be of any importance, they will shy away from it.

In any event it will not be the firecracker that it was cracked up to be at the outset of the second session this year. Hard-bitten politicians were not impressed with it.

Even those who had calculated correctly that its political usefulness was not in passing it and setting up a "medicare" system but only in talking about it were not impressed. It failed to catch on with the public. The American people are intensely interested in medical care. There is special interest in medical care for the aged who lack the means of underwriting the cost of long and serious illnesses under modern medical care.

But there is no disposition to jump to the conclusion that the answer is a plan called "medicare." There is, rather, a tendency to arrive gradually at a conclusion that there will need to be a variety of answers, perhaps including government intercession but not limiting the solution to one particular program offered by government.

If an overwhelming majority of voters decided that the Kennedy "medicare" proposal was the only solution to the problem of high medical costs, their will would prevail. Until and unless this is established by the 1962 congressional elections, "medicare" is just another issue of dubious value at the polls.

That's how it used to be.

Things are different now.

Summer vacation season is over, but there now are winter vacationists as well as summer vacationists. There also are year-around vacationists.

Looking ahead a few years, you can see the time when year-around vacationing will be as common as summer vacationing. The idea has been cooking a long time and is about ready to boil over.

It began with seasonal employment. Carpenters and bricklayers used to follow the sun south in winter, killing two birds with one stone. If they couldn't find work they at least had found pleasanter living conditions.

Seasonal labor had the same idea. It followed the crops.

Athletes caught on. They followed the sun. College students saw the merit of sun-following and swelled the enrollment of southern schools that had no curriculum to boast about but were long on sunshine.

The airplane, high-speed highways, unemployment compensation and affluent living, advertising, real estate promotion and wanderlust, all helped. In another generation it's possible that the chublain belt will be left in charge of a caretaker crew and ski enthusiasts each year from Thanksgiving to Easter.

Southerners will have twisted away all the northerners factories by that time anyway with promises of "controlled" operating conditions. Unemployment compensation will have become what it started out to be a guaranteed annual wage, payable on demand.

Year-around school schedules will make it feasible to enroll kiddies in school any time anywhere. Classrooms will be open 12 months a year.

Shorter work weeks more bob-tailed than the shortsies now being talked about will make it possible for working stiffs to collect enough forced overtime to sustain themselves with six months' effort a year.

Closed-circuit television and telephone conferences will wipe out distances. Jobs not requiring the physical presence of the jobholder will be performable in absentia, just as it already is practicable for tycoons, politicians vice overlords to run their affairs from the sun-drenched beaches of Florida, the Riviera, Hawaii, Rio and the South Sea islands.

So buck up, stranger. You can be a winter vacationist. You can get on the wave of the future now at economy rates before the price goes up. No one needs to have tired blood anymore.

JFK's Indecision on Cuban Invasion Plaguing U.S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

President Kennedy in his speeches likes to refer to his troubles—particularly Cuba—as having been "inherited" from the Eisenhower administration.

Former President Truman says in his political outbursts that Mr. Eisenhower was a "lazy" President. The real question is not how much time a president gives to golf or yachting or campaigning or social events, but how he uses the time he does give to official business—the kind of decisions he makes.

Members of Congress have in the last few days put into the Congressional Record a lengthy article that was published two weeks ago in U.S. News & World Report giving a comprehensive account of the fateful decision President Kennedy made when he first withdrew and then—when it was too late—actually approved of air support for the Cuban exiles in their invasion of their homeland in April 1961.

Ever since that time there have been attempts to blame the whole fiasco on the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff or on the Central Intelligence Agency. But President Kennedy told the truth when he himself assumed full responsibility. What hasn't been generally known, however, is how he came to make the mistake he did.

THE MAGAZINE article was the result of many weeks of investigation and research among official sources, particularly among persons who were in the know at the time. Certain administration officials have since conceded the accuracy of the article. It reads in part as follows:

"A fateful decision, made by President Kennedy on Sunday, April 16, 1961, is rising now to plague the U.S. On that Sunday evening, an armed force of Cuban refugees, trained by the United States, was at sea, sailing secretly to invade Fidel Castro's Cuba. The American President, a few hours earlier, had given final approval to that invasion.

"Only the day before, on April 15, a surprise attack by B-26 bombing planes belonging to the invaders had knocked out all but seven planes of Castro's tiny air force.

"A second air strike was scheduled for Monday morning, April

17. It was to coincide with the landing of the invaders. It was supposed to finish the job of wiping out Castro's planes and to provide air support for the invasion.

"Secure in the assurance of air support, the invaders went ashore in the early morning darkness of Monday, April 17. Their landing was successful: 1,400 armed men reached the beaches of a place called the Bay of Pigs.

"In the battle that followed, Castro's troops suffered heavy casualties. Castro's tanks, coming up to the battle, were sitting ducks for an attack by air. Confidently, the little invading force waited for its air support to arrive. Its leaders had assurance of that support. It was provided in the preinvasion planning.

"HOURS BEFORE, on Sunday evening, a small but potent force of B-26s was sitting in readiness on an airfield 500 miles away (in a Latin-American country), waiting to take off for the Bay of Pigs. Those were planes of the invasion force, with Cuban pilots. But those planes didn't take off. The reason: President Kennedy forbade their use....

"When the invasion began, in the predawn hours of Monday, the need of air support became apparent. Worried, the nonmilitary officials in Washington who were running the invasion went to President Kennedy for a new decision. They suggested that U.S. Navy planes from a U.S. aircraft carrier be used to fly air support for the invaders....

"In the planning of the invasion—planning begun under the Eisenhower administration the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff had recommended the use of U.S. air support. President Kennedy vetoed the idea. He insisted that there was to be no direct American participation. Now, with the outcome possibly hanging in the balance military and nonmilitary men joined in renewing the plea.

"Once again, in the early morning hours of Monday, April 17, President Kennedy made a fateful decision. He said 'no' to the use of U.S. planes....

"With no air support, the invasion soon began to run into trouble.... in the face of this situation, President Kennedy took wraps off the Cuban fliers. On Monday noon he said they could go into action. But bad weather interfered at first. Finally, an air strike was set up for early Wednesday.

"On Tuesday, however, the situation continued to deteriorate.... By Tuesday night, April 18, a crisis was clearly at hand. Once again there was an appeal to President Kennedy. On this night the President, in white tie and tails, was playing host at a congressional reception in the White House. He left the party to confer with his advisers—both civilian and military. Again it was proposed to use U.S. planes to save the invasion.

"THIS TIME the President relented slightly. He consented to using one carrier's planes for just one hour on Wednesday morning—just long enough to provide cover for the invaders to land some supplies and for their planes to make a quick strike. U.S. planes, still, were not to attack land targets.

"Even this limited plan for U.S. aid went awry. There were communications mixups. The Cuban fliers mistimed their strike. The U.S. planes never got into action. And anyway, it developed, it was too late. By sundown on Wednesday, April 19, the invasion was a failure. The invaders inflicted close to 2,000 casualties on Castro's forces, suffered only a hundred or so casualties of their own. But without air support, the invaders could not hold out. Most of them wound up as Castro captives."

Criticism and analysis in retrospect by those who know the whole story is concentrated today on one point—full authority should be given in advance and a military operation should be handled by military men near the battle scene and not many hundreds of miles away in the White House or even in the Pentagon.

Kennedys Gunning for Rockefeller

By VICTOR RIESEL

Late in October John Kennedy will hit New York City twice in a hard-punching drive to smash Nelson Rockefeller's political strength. The governor's vote winning ability is the President's most throbbing political headache these days.

When Mr. Kennedy steps out on the platform of a vast garment area street rally of some half a million people summoned by the labor-led Liberal party, about 10 days before election, he'll wind up more than a year's planning against the only man he believes may be hard to beat for the presidency in November of '64.

This story of the effort to pin down the make-or-break state of New York has not been told. It begins about a year ago when President Kennedy's wizard of odds, Lou Harris, the famed poll taker, sat with some White House strategists. It was decided by the President and Robert Kennedy, Lou Harris et al. that New York could be held only by a second generation silk-stocking liberal of the Senator Lehman-Franklin Roosevelt tradition—but a newcomer.

THE SEARCH for the new personality who could cut into Rockefeller's appeal to the big city voters began immediately. Soon there was a short list of names.

Lou Harris began one of his precision polls some six months ago. Robert M. Morgenthau, 43-year-old Navy veteran, son of FDR's secretary of the treasury, grandnephew of Herbert Lehman, did not quite make the top of the list. But he was the best all-around candidate for what the White House wanted.

Harris flew to Washington. He told the President and Bob Kennedy and Mayor Wagner what he had found. The decision was made. Morgenthau, acceptable to the Democratic party's partners in the statewide Liberal party, would run for governor in the fall.

Then this became the best-kept political secret in the land. It wasn't leaked until mid-August. Not from the beginning did any other candidates have a chance.

The White House nursed this one right up to the final hours of the Democratic State Convention in Syracuse. White House calls were made late on the Sunday night and Monday morning before the parley opened.

BY THIS TIME there were even more compelling reasons in White House circles for Morgenthau's nomination for governor. Former Sen. Lehman, 84-year-old grand old man of the party, will not be able to campaign nearly as actively as he had planned. Nor were reports from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt any more encouraging. She has been ill and probably will not campaign at all this year beyond issuing statements of support.

Furthermore, polls and some political scouting disclosed that Gov. Rockefeller has been gaining wide support in the very political fortress few thought a Republican could crack. Not only has Rockefeller been widely cheered in big city Democratic bailiwicks—but he has also amassed considerable and important labor support.

For the first time in years, influential labor leaders and unions are swinging to a Republican candidate in New York State. Quietly, they have pledged support.

None of the national leaders will declare for Rockefeller. But their unions, and their manpower, and their second-and third-echelon officials, will be out working for him in the precincts. This backing will come from the building and construction trades.

IT DOES, of course, look good for Nelson Rockefeller. But he is taking no chances, not even against the "quiet man," his virtually unknown opponent.

First, Rockefeller is aware that the Kennedys plan to put into action one of the best political machines ever seen in this state.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You've helped others. I hope you can help me.

My husband has gotten into a habit of plopping down on the sofa after supper to watch TV. He usually drinks about five or six cans of beer and falls asleep. When I get ready for bed I can't budge him.

He weighs 220 pounds and I might as well try to move an elephant. I've tried to wake him up but he's a terribly mean sleeper and he hits and kicks me.

In the morning when he wakes up and discovers he's in the living room he gets raving mad. He says his back aches because the sofa is lumpy and his feet hurt because he falls asleep with his shoes on.

When I tell him I tried to wake him up and get him to go to bed he doesn't believe me. I need help and I hope you can suggest something. — JESSIE.

Dear Jessie: Your husband is not exactly falling asleep. Passing out is more like it. You can't wake him up because he's in an alcoholic stupor.

If you could persuade him to cut down on the beer your other problem would be solved. In the meantime, get the sofa upholstered and take his shoes off.

Family Martyr

Dear Ann: I'm a 14-year-old girl who feels she is being taken advantage of. In July my aunt and uncle moved to this city from another town. They have four children. The oldest is 8 years of age and the baby is 2.

At first I was happy to help out because my aunt had a lot to do getting settled. I washed and fed the kids, and baby-sat with them during the day. I also sat evenings. I had to pass up going swimming and to the movies with my friends but I didn't complain because I knew I was needed.

Now my aunt expects me to be a nursemaid and a free sitter all the time. She doesn't even ask me. She tells my mother and I am ordered to go over there.

My mother says blood is thicker than water and I should not expect pay for helping relatives. I don't agree. If you say my mother is right I will stop complaining. Thank you. — NATALIE.

Dear Natalie: I do NOT feel that your mother is right and I'm not going to say she's right just because she's your mother.

Now that your aunt is settled, if she wants you to wash, feed or sit with her children she should pay you as she would pay any other sitter. I don't buy the theory that a blood relationship gives people the right to take advantage of one another...

Etiquette Question

Dear Ann: My daughter recently married a fine young fellow who lives in an Eastern city. She has gone there to live. The marriage was an elopement and I've never met the young man's parents.

They have received my daughter most graciously and from her glowing letters they must be wonderful people. Would it be proper for me to write to them? I would like to but I don't know how to phrase the letter. Your guidance would be deeply appreciated. — EDMONTON.

Dear Edmonton: According to formal procedure, the groom's parents are supposed to write to you. However, I feel strongly that a warm-hearted expression of friendship takes precedence over any rule of etiquette. By all means write to the Predicament In Cuba Is Double One for U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States' predicament with Fidel Castro has always been double: how to do something about him and how to save face if it doesn't. It's an embarrassed contemplation.

Now, like a man determined to drive a neighbor to distraction with gradual torments, Premier Khrushchev has added one more jolt to the American embarrassment.

He let Castro announce Tuesday the Soviet Union and Cuba plan to build a port somewhere on Cuba's coastline as headquarters for a joint Russian-Cuban fishing fleet.

The immediate American reaction is: just a fishing fleet?

It was bad enough when Moscow announced some weeks ago it was sending arms to Castro along with technicians to teach the Cubans how to use them. This brought heated demands in this country for a Cuban invasion.

President Kennedy thought they were overheated. He said the weapons so far were just the defensive kind. Congress, after appropriate reflection, has been content to settle for a resolution.

It will say something to the effect that the United States will use force if necessary to stop any expansion of communism from Cuba to the rest of the Western Hemisphere.

Thus no American action—at least overt—appeared to be in the works at this time.

But the thought of a Russian fishing fleet patrolling the American coast—with all that the presence of such a fleet could imply—will probably cause new outbursts of American exasperation.

It is easy to imagine the form it will take:

That the new port may in reality become not a fishing base but a Russian naval base.

That the Russian vessels will range all the way from electronic Peeping Toms, looking in the American window, to naval caravans landing Communist guerrillas on the shore of Latin-American republics.

All this in time may be true, and the very nearness of the Russian ships is ominous, but the United States will still probably feel compelled to show restraint for a variety of reasons.

Any direct assault by the American giant on Cuba with a population of only seven million would give Khrushchev the finest propaganda harvest he's gathered since the cold war started.

There has been no outburst of enthusiasm in Latin-American countries, which this country is so anxious to protect from communism, for direct action to throttle Castro.

And, since this country is anxious to be considered a good neighbor and a good influence to its Latin neighbors, it can ill afford to be considered a baleful one, which it might if it resorted to invasion.

In addition there is the little matter of the Russian threat of war if the United States hits Cuba. This may be strictly bluff. Naturally, the United States must be hesitant to assume so, since the results could be ghastly.

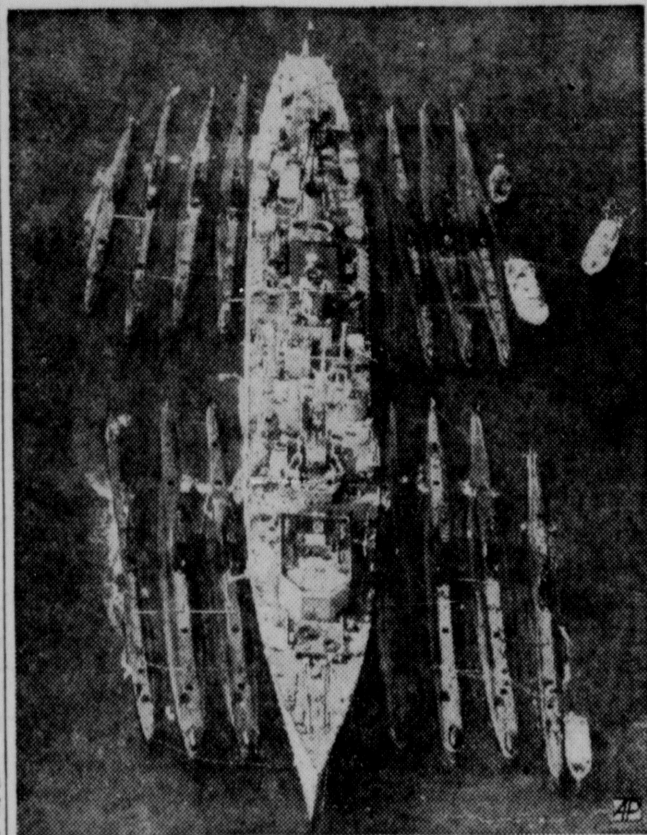

Yet, having said all this, the American predicament is painful. The United States has been asserting leadership of the Americas. Its hope of success in Latin America is based on the hope its leadership will be accepted and respected, two conditions practically synonymous.

But here's tiny Cuba, just 90 miles off the American coast, defying gigantic Uncle Sam, peeking out from under the wing of Khrushchev to call names.

The longer this goes on, the more the loss of face for the United States. There's a limit to how much more it can lose without jeopardizing Latin-American respect, which could be as disastrous as anything else.

Thus the United States can lose something if it acts and something if it doesn't. While it ponders, the best it can expect is more indignities from both Khrushchev and Castro.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN
Germs Must Have 'Place to Grow'

Bacteria cultures were taken from the noses and throats of 75 perfectly healthy wives and husbands in a recent study made by Dr. H. S. Harvey and Miss Marjorie Dunlap of Boston University. When the results were matched, couple by couple, some very unexpected findings came to light.

1. Hemolytic streptococci, of the disease-producing type, were present in one or other of the marital partners in 36 instances. But, in only 12 cases was the germ present in both.

2. Influenza bacilli were present in one or other of the partners in 67 instances. And, in 51 cases, in both.

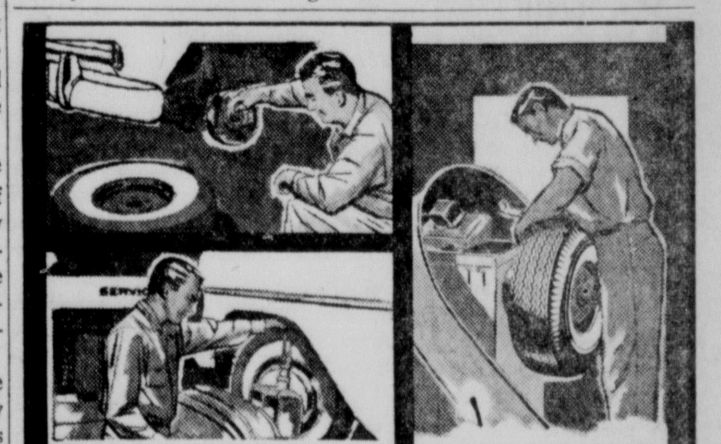

LIKE MANY important studies his investigation raises more problems than it solves. For instance, how is it that these persons maintained their health with a menagerie of bacilli lurking in their mouths and noses? how is it that some partners failed to "catch" the strep from the spouse?

And, if hemolytic strep can be grown from the nose or throat of almost half the population, how much significance is to be attached to a positive strep culture taken from the throat of someone who is ill with an inflammatory condition in this area?

The answers to some of these questions will be apparent to any experienced gardener. It takes more than just the seed to obtain growth. You have to have the right soil.

PRESUMABLY, the partner that didn't "catch" the spouse's particular brand of strep did not provide growing conditions. Perhaps, too, the reason strep carriers remained healthy was the refusal of their tissues to permit bacilli to establish a beachhead. If they had opened the door so much as a crack, germs might have gained entrance just as they do when there's the slightest break in the surface of a tomato.

Girl Scout Level Change Due In '63

Beginning in September, 1963, the present three-level structure of Girl Scouting used since 1938 will be replaced with a new four-age level.

They will be grouped according to age as follows: Brownie Scouts, 7 and 8 year olds; Junior Girl Scouts, aged 9 through 11; Cadette Girl Scouts, 12 through 14, and Senior Girl Scouts, 15 through 17 years old.

Until next year, troops will continue in the present pattern of Brownie Scouts, age 7 through 9, Intermediate Girl Scouts, 10 through 13, and Senior Girl Scouts, 14 through 17 years old.

There will be no change in the fundamental elements of Girl Scouting but the entire structure will be streamlined.

Hints From Heloise
By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Regarding the inquiry in your column on the build-up of waxes on furniture; I assume this has to do with furniture waxes and not a self-polishing wax for floors (the kind that dries shiny), which is NEVER recommended for furniture.

(Undoubtedly your readers notice a smeary, streaky or dull cloudy look and assume there is a buildup of wax. The problem could be caused by one or more of the following:

1. Use of waxes and oil products interchangeably (they don't get along).

2. Not removing heavy deposits of oil polishes before switching to wax.

3. Accumulation of a greasy film from cooking and heating.

These greasy films are one of the most common causes of a smeary look on furniture. People don't realize that the same film which makes windows messy also settles on other smooth exposed surfaces such as furniture, woodwork, metal articles, etc. . . .

THE SOLUTION to this problem is simple: Just use a furniture wax which does a good cleaning job. Cleaning waxes — to do a thorough job — should be applied generously to a small area (usually one or two square feet) and rubbed to loosen the greasy dirt . . . then wiped dry immediately with a clean cloth while the wax is moist and the soil is loosened.

Waxes which one might use on woodwork can be removed by washing the surface with turpentine, naphtha or benzine. (Follow the directions on each container.) The trick in doing this is to rub a small area briskly . . . using the cleaner generously . . . then wipe dry immediately while the wax is loosened. Use plenty of clean dry clothes for wiping.

Others To Be Landed At Antwerp

Copters Fly Plane Victims To Ireland

By COLIN FROST
CORK, Ireland (AP)—Two Royal Air Force helicopters began lifting injured survivors of a ditched American airliner off the Swiss rescue ship Celerina today.

The first to be removed from the vessel in the hazardous aerial operation were three stretcher cases and four persons less seriously injured.

The Celerina had radioed that a total of 14 of the 44 survivors aboard — American service men and their wives — needed to be taken to shore hospitals quickly. Ambulances, doctors and a police escort waited at the Cork docks as the helicopters flew in from their rendezvous with the Celerina 30 miles southwest of the Irish coast.

I watched from a chartered plane as the bright yellow helicopters hovered over the Celerina and winched the injured aboard, one at a time.

Most of those brought ashore appeared to be suffering from leg injuries. One of them, Sgt. Ralph E. Bates of Wurtland, Ky., said: "I don't remember much about the crash. It was certainly a shock."

One of the helicopter pilots brought an urgent call from the Celerina for medical supplies including bandages, petroleum jelly, aspirin and gauze.

The Celerina also said it was in great need of 100 pounds of meat, 50 pounds of rice and 50 pounds of flour to feed its unexpected guests. Arrangements were quickly made to send these supplies to the ship.

The Celerina is bound for Antwerp with 44 of the 48 American survivors, mostly servicemen and dependents who had been heading for Germany.

The ship had radioed Tuesday night that two persons aboard were suffering from burns and needed medical aid.

A spokesman for the Air-Sea Rescue Coordination Center at Portsmouth said the injured were suffering from second-degree burns but "there was definitely no fire on board the Celerina."

The Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure was reported delayed on her passage to Shannon, in southwest Ireland, to unload four more survivors from the Super Constellation that ditched Sunday night 500 miles west of Ireland.

A Canadian navy spokesman said the carrier now is due off Shannon Thursday, several hours later than expected.

The SOS from the Celerina added a new twist to the tragedy of the Flying Tiger plane which ditched in the Atlantic with the presumed loss of 28 American lives.

The search for 16 missing persons has been called off. U.S. air search headquarters at Prestwick, Scotland, said there was no possibility that a last-chance search would be made for them today.

The Bonaventure also is bringing 12 bodies taken from the sea.

Matter of Fact

News from Communist China is often slow in reaching the public. It was reported that late in 1960 nine new submarines were under construction in Communist China. The commander of the United States Pacific fleet claimed that Red China had, with its former Soviet ships, the third-largest submarine fleet in the world.

Ice was indicted by the September grand jury. His case was continued Monday by Judge Buzzard who sentenced him Tuesday after he pleaded guilty and asked for immediate sentencing.

Police Killing Of Negro Boy Creates Rift

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Fire destroyed three homes Tuesday night as scores of officers continued to patrol troubled suburban Kinloch, scene of a demonstration by a mob incensed over the police killing of a Negro youth.

Kinloch Mayor Clarence Lee called the fires the work of arsonists. There were no injuries.

Police early today arrested two of three men seen fleeing from a house fire.

Officers said Joseph Houston, 23, admitted setting 4 fires. He was booked on suspicion of arson. Police said Daniel Carter, 16, admitted setting one fire. He was turned over to juvenile authorities.

A shotgun blast wounded three white officers and a Negro by stander Tuesday morning as the officers moved to break up a crowd of about 200 Negroes. None of the wounded was hurt critically.

Negroes had gathered near the police station, shouting, "We want Mason." Chief of Police Roosevelt Hoskins said "there was a lot of yelling and scuffling. They began calling names at the policemen."

The violence in the all-Negro community stemmed from the shooting of Darnell Dortch, 20, by police officer Israel Mason, 74, Sunday. Mason, a Negro, resigned Tuesday. He said Dortch refused to accept a careless driving warrant and was shot as they fought for possession of Mason's pistol.

Mayor Lee said no racial angles were involved in the demonstrations.

Yale Student Fined For Setting Off Homemade Bombs

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A 19-year-old Yale sophomore from Rocky River, Ohio, must pay a $10 fine because he exploded three homemade bombs on the university campus.

William G. Harter pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges of setting off fireworks within the city limits. Harter was expelled from Yale Monday. Judge Walter A. Hayes said he had assurances the youth was leaving the city and had promised to pay for the damage.

Two bombs exploded Friday night. On the previous Tuesday a bomb went off in the Old Campus and a fragment from a tin can hit a freshman in the chest but did not cause serious injuries.

John Powell, university director of security, said Harter had worked on explosives while employed by a refinery during the summer and apparently brought some chemicals back with him to Yale. He said the youth was warned last year about exploding a homemade bomb.

Appointments In Argentina Slashed

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Emerging as the strong man after the army revolt that shook Argentina, Alvaro Alsogaray took the first step Tuesday night toward restoring civilian authority in high positions. He was immediately balked by the navy.

The economics minister, in his dual role of acting interior minister, announced that Inspector General Nicolas Jose Rodriguez would become chief of the federal police department. He named inspector Fernando Sobrado as deputy chief.

The announcement set the navy seething. The navy has been making the decision on appointments for top posts in the strategic federal police since overthrowing dictator Juan D. Peron in 1955.

In the face of rising navy resentment, Alsogaray temporarily withdrew the appointments.

The navy is a power in Argentine military circles, and it has given its allegiance only reluctantly to President Jose Maria Guido since the end of last week's fighting.

Irksome Remarks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a newspaperman gets tired of hearing: "Oh, you can't print that!" "Of the record, I don't mind telling you that—" "He must be a newspaperman. Nobody else would wear a hat like that."

"Why is it newspapers always seem to be full of nothing but bad news? Is the world really that awful?" "You fellows must get a lot of information you can't publish. Tell me the truth now. What is Khrushchev really up to?" "I suppose you expect to get into heaven on a press pass, too."

"Could you write a story about me? I just a dog!" "I just wanted to give you an item about my daughter's wedding. You'll be sure and put it on the front page, won't you? That'll really impress our neighbors."

"Hi, Scoop. What's new?" "And furthermore, I'm just not any ordinary indignant reader. My husband is a cousin of the mayor."

"I thought all newspapermen went around with a big pencil stuck behind their ear."

"My son just flunked out of college again, and now he says he's interested in taking up journalism. How long will it take him to become a foreign correspondent?" "Hey Pete, Mr. Cynickiweics is on the phone. He says we spelled his name wrong again. He wants to know if he changed it to Smith would it help you to get it right."

"Naturally, what I'm telling you is in strict confidence."

"Oh, no, I don't want to be quoted."

"Here's a cigar, son. Let's just forget the whole thing, shall we?" "You printed the text of the President's last speech. Why can't you run the full text of my sermon?"

"Gee, being a reporter sounds awfully exciting. You get to meet such interesting people."

"You don't mean they pay you to write things like that? Why, only went two years to high school, but I'll bet you I could—" "I used to be in the newspaper game myself—and then I got smart."

"Shall I let him in, Boss? He claims he's a reporter."

"Pete, there's a fellow out at the reception desk who says he's invented a perpetual motion machine that really works. Better go out and listen to him. He may be a subscriber."

"Hello, hello. This is Mr. Cynickiweics. I want to give you an item about my wife being elected president of our garden club. Yes, it's 'e' like in centipede, 'y' like in yesterday, 'z' like in—"

Liston KOs Patterson In 1st for Heavyweight Title

Rematch Slated Within 90 Days

2 Left Hooks Drop Ex-Champ For Count

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A new Charles (Sonny) Liston today promised to be a world heavyweight champion in shining armor and also to give Floyd Patterson a rematch as soon as possible.

A cruel-punching strong man, Liston, 28, slammed the door of sudden fame on a shady past Tuesday night by exploding the long-suspected Patterson myth in 126 seconds of their huddled title match in Comiskey Park.

In the third fastest finish in heavyweight boxing history, 2:06 of the first round, Liston crumpled Patterson to the canvas with a couple of ponderous left hooks.

Before a disappointing paid crowd of 18,894 and a whopping closed circuit television audience had time to dig into their popcorn, the fight had ended in stunning fashion.

Perhaps not so stunning, because it long was felt that the canny Cus D'Amato, Patterson's guiding angel, had wrapped his boy in cotton. Floyd's championship path mainly avoided what real punchers were around since Patterson, then 21, first won the crown in 1956 by flattening an overfatted Archie Moore.

Ingemar Johansson, whose "toonder right" unexpectedly dethroned Patterson in 1959, best described D'Amato's boy against the hulking Liston, who out-weighted the champion, 214 to 189.

"Patterson looks like a little baby tonight," said Ingo, who may get a shot at Liston after the new champ has his return match with Patterson.

Patterson, whose catastrophic finish had been foreshadowed in 12 knockdowns in previous title bouts, wants another go at Liston within three months.

That could be a big mistake, except that, financially, Patterson could swell his lion's take as a loser by sharing a 30-30 split of the return match receipts.

Liston is ready at any time. Liston had rushed over to Patterson after referee Frank Sikora threw his arms around the wobbly ex-champion following his knockout count.

"He told me if the public gives me a chance, I can be a worthy champion, maybe a better champion than he was."

"I think I can prove just that—if the public gives me a chance," added the poker-faced Liston.

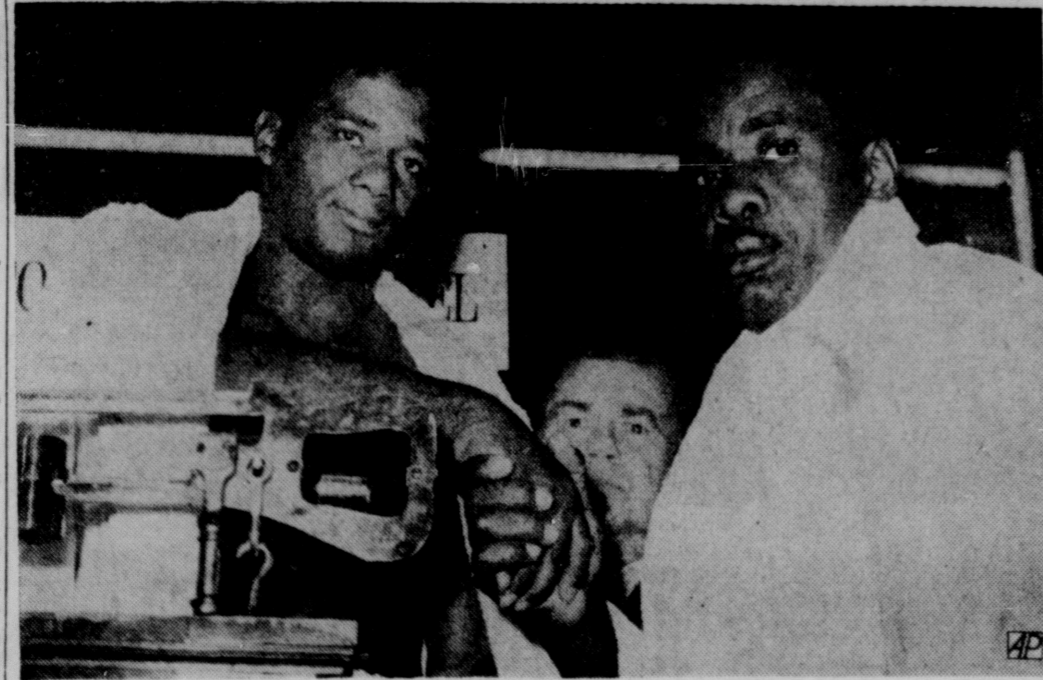

The Comiskey Park gross receipts were announced as $965,420 and the net $556,119.95.

The big swag comes Thursday when the closed circuit television reports are filed. Patterson's take on the basis of the live gate and a guaranteed $2 million from television was an estimated $1,185,253 and Liston—pegged at a 12½ take of all net receipts—should get a minimum of $282,015.

Yanks Clinch Pennant, Rip Senators 8-3; Chisox Lose

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
They finally did it.
The New York Yankees finally clinched the 1962 American League pennant.

As a rousing anticlimax to a lackluster campaign, the Yankees got the one they needed Tuesday night by beating Washington's last place Senators 8-3.

Two of the Yankees' long-time stars, left-hander Whitey Ford and slugger Mickey Mantle, led the Bombers to the deciding victory. Ford was the winning pitcher, Mantle paced the 16-hit attack with four singles.

Moments after the final out, and with the flag safely in Yankee possession, the Cleveland Indians polished off New York's closest pursuers, the Minnesota Twin, 5-1. That left the Yanks 5½ games in front with four to play.

For the Yankees, perhaps the most highly favored pennant choice since they started playing Abner Doubleday's pastime for keeps, it is their 27th league title, their 12th in the last 14 years and their third straight.

But it was a long time coming. Slowed down by injuries to Mantle, Ford and last year's relief standout, Luis Arroyo, and hampered by subpar play on the part of several other key men, the Yankees never were really able to take charge. Dawdling along their own, and forced to withstand the surprise challenges of the Twins and the Los Angeles Angels, what was expected to be a season-long romp became a season-long struggle.

Detroit nipped Los Angeles 3-2 when Al Kaline tripled in two unearned runs after two were out in the last of the ninth inning and Boston blanked Chicago 4-0 on Bill Monbouquette's five-hit pitching. Kansas City at Baltimore was postponed because of threatening weather.

In the National League, Houston topped Los Angeles 3-2 in 10 innings and San Francisco beat St. Louis 4-2, cutting the Dodgers' lead over the Giants to two games; Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1; and Milwaukee led New York 7-3. Chicago and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Pedro Ramos, an ex-Twin, beat Minnesota on seven hits and bested his fellow Cuban and former teammate, Camilo Pascual, who was after his 20th victory. Harmon Killebrew shot the Twins into a brief lead when he hit his 46th homer in the top of the second but the Indians took command in their half of the inning on Woodie Held's two-run homer.

Retains American Sail Cup

Weatherly Rebuffs Gretel Challenge

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Matilda will not wait tonight.

The old America's Cup stays in its New York Yacht Club show-case until Britain takes the next crack at it, probably in a year or two.

An English challenge is expected, and yacht club officials said it would be accepted if it is received in the next 30 days.

The gallant Australian bid for the 111-year-old America's Cup ended in the gathering gloom off Newport Tuesday, when the American defender Weatherly ground the Aussie sloop Gretel into the sea by a half-mile margin.

The victory gave the Americans the cup series, four races to one. It was the 18th unsuccessful challenge for the ornate old $500 silver mug.

The gallant Australian bid was doomed to join the ill-fated pre-war challenges of Sir Thomas Lipton and T.O.M. Sopwith early in the final race.

Weatherly skipper Bus Mosbacher Jr., rated the best man in the world at handling a skittish sailing ship into the wind, jumped off to a lead within minutes after the start.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Squirrel season which opened during the summertime has now entered the first part of fall. The cool days we have been experiencing is much better than sweating it out while waiting for a bushy tail to show up. A few hunters claim the squirrel population seems better this season than last. Could be but I don't see too many hunters with more than one or two squirrels.

Deer hunters, hunting deer with bow and arrow will enjoy a long season of hunting beginning Oct. 15 and continuing through Dec. 31, 1962. Serango's Sinclair Gas Station at Lisbon has been the designated station for bow hunters to take their deer, after being killed, and have the carcass officially sealed before it is legally theirs.

It may be dressed out in the field and allowed to cool off before being moved. The next procedure is to have it officially sealed then you may do what you please with it except sell the meat. Only one deer is allowed whether taken with bow and arrow or by gun during the gunning season Dec. 13 and 14. Bow hunters must observe shooting hours which is 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Bow hunting permitted from daylight to dark on other days during the bow season.

Pheasants and rabbits seem to be more plentiful this year which I think can be attributed to the excellent nesting season since early spring. Several broods have been seen in the hilly section, primarily where a good bit of grain is being grown. Just goes to show when the food supply is present the environment doesn't make a great big difference.

Squirrel hunters report kicking up a few grouse in the southern part of the county. To me, grouse hunting is about tops of them all. The season on ruffed grouse is Oct. 15 through Feb. 23, 1963. Bag limit is 3, but if you happen to bag 3 in one day, you can attribute such success due partly to luck. Grouse may be taken from daylight until dark except during the gun season for deer when all daytime hunting begins at 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Unless you know one duck from the other in flight you had better be extra cautious this season. I do not have an official order regarding ducks at this time, so as to eliminate all errors on my part I won't go into lengthy details. A few things I have learned, only one mallard will be allowed in possession if it is a greenhead or a black mallard. Two wood ducks can be included in the bag this year along with 4 scaup (bluebills).

Conn's Hole-In-One Is 4th At Area Course

Glenn Conn of Lisbon made a hole-in-one at the Twin Springs Country Club golf course near Guilford Lake recently. He made his ace on the No. 2 110-yard hole, using a seven iron.

Bob and Earl McNamee witnessed the shot. It was the fourth hole-in-one made at Twin Springs this season.

Liston Pleads To Public For Acceptance

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—"If the public will accept me I'll be a good champ."

So said Sonny Liston, a former convict who ascended the throne of boxing's most valuable championship.

In just 2 minutes, 6 seconds, Liston knocked out defending champion Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title, earning approximately $400,000 for the brief, brisk workout. He is now on the threshold of earning millions.

"If the public will allow me a chance to let bygones be bygones, I could be a good champ," said the surprisingly poised new champion.

As for the fast and stunning finish, Liston said "I started it with a left hook and ended it with a left hook."

"I hit him with a left hook and he tied me up," said Liston. "The referee said to break and he grabbed the ropes. That gave me the idea he was hurt and I hit him with a couple of good lefts. That was it."

Asked about the contracted return bout, Liston said "it was too quick" even to think about the time and place, but added "I'd like one as soon as possible."

They have a return clause calling for the second fight within a year.

"I don't want to wait a year," said Patterson. "Maybe within three months."

The shocked ex-champion kept newsmen waiting for about 30 minutes following the startling finish while he talked in his dressing room with Manager Cus D'Amato, the man who started him on the road to the title.

"I will know in about a week about a return fight," said Patterson. "Liston's punches are something you see coming. I was hit by a good punch and it had some kind of effect. Liston is in a better position to know. I have no excuses."

Spahn Eyes Pitching Mark Against Pirates Monday

B. DAVE O'HARA
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee wonder Warren Spahn has reached another milestone in his fabulous career and has no intentions of ending his assault on baseball records. Already he's looking forward to 1963.

"I'm not ready to quit; I want to win 20 next year," Spahn said Tuesday night after he tied Eddie Plank as history's top left-handed winner and stopped the New York Mets 7-3 in his 326th lifetime victory.

With a start against Pittsburgh scheduled for Saturday, the 41-year-old pitching marvel has a chance to become undisputed king of the southpaws before heading for his Hartshorne, Okla., ranch for the winter.

One more victory will enable Spahn to take sole possession of ninth place among all-time winners from Plank, who won 326, including 21 in the outlaw Federal League, from 1901-17. Plank had 305 victories for Philadelphia and St. Louis in the American League.

With a 17-14 record, the southpaw ace who won his first game for the Braves in 1946, reviewed what he called a "whacky year."

Half of his losses have been by one run and two others were 2-0 and 3-1 decisions.

"It's been kind of a dismal season all around," he said. "The club finishing fifth and my failing to win 20 for the fourth time since my first full year with it has made it that way."

"I haven't pitched a shutout and I've lost one-run games that I should have won, but I hesitate to call it hard luck. When you start feeling sorry for yourself, you're in trouble. Hard luck or no hard luck, actually I think I've pitched more consistently this season—whether better or not I don't know."

Rampaging Giants Gain On Dodgers, Whip Cards 4-2

League Leaders Bow To Houston

Reds' Chances Are Slim, Trail By 5

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Walt Alston, the close-to-the-vest Los Angeles manager, turned riverboat gambler in a bold bid to deal his first-place Dodgers a step closer to the National League pennant jackpot with an ace-in-the-hole hand. But second-place San Francisco picked up the chips.

Alston named his ace, 25-game winner Don Drysdale, to start against Houston Tuesday night with only one day's rest. Drysdale succeeded in his iron-man effort, but Al Spangler ruined Alston's hand with a 10th inning home run off Ed Roebuck that gave the Colts a 3-2 decision over the Dodgers.

The defeat trimmed a full game off Los Angeles' lead and left them only two games in front of the pursuing Giants, who closed in as Willie Mays continued his hot hitting and Jack Sanford posted his 23rd triumph in a 4-2 decision over St. Louis.

The loss left the Dodgers' pennant-clinching number at four. Any combination of four Los Angeles victories or San Francisco defeats will clinch it for the Dodgers. Each team has five games remaining.

The winner will face the New York Yankees, who clinched their 27th American League pennant — their third in a row — by whipping Washington 8-3 while second-place Minnesota took a 5-1 pasting from the Cleveland Indians. Either result would have ended the race. The combination gave the Yanks a 5½ game lead.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati's defending champions nailed down third place by edging Pittsburgh 2-1 as Bob Purkey posted his 23rd victory, and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn tied Eddie Plank as the winningest left-hander in major league history by recording his 326th career triumph, 7-3 over the New York Mets. Chicago and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

In other AL action, Detroit nipped the third-place Los Angeles Angels 3-2 and Boston beat the Chicago White Sox 4-0. The Kansas City-Baltimore game was postponed because of threatening weather.

Drysdale, who last pitched Sunday and was making his third start in six days, gave up a run in the first on a walk, an error by Maury Wills, Norm Larker's force out and an error by Larry Buright. The Dodgers evened it in the sixth when Wills beat out a bunt, stole second, advanced to third on a grounder and stole home — his 99th theft. The Colts moved back out front in the seventh as J. C. Hartman beat out a bunt and came across on a triple by Spangler. Singles by Tommy Davis and Frank Howard and a sacrifice fly by John Roseboro got the Dodgers even again in their half.

It stayed that way until the 10th when Roebuck made his appearance.

He got Carl Warwick to ground out, but Spangler lined a homer into the right field stands to win it and tag Roebuck with his first loss since Aug. 8, 1960. Dick Farrell (10-19), a former Dodger, went the distance for the victory.

At San Francisco, the Cardinals broke out front against Sanford (23-7) with a run in the fifth on singles by Ken Boyer and Gary Kolb plus a run-producing double play. But the Giants moved ahead to stay in the sixth with two runs off Ernie Broglio (11-9) on singles by Chuck Hiller, Matty Alou, Mays and Orlando Cepeda. A seventh-inning run for the Giants on a double by Tom Haller and Harvey Kuenn's single turned out to be the decisive tally when Bill White homered for St. Louis in the ninth.

Reggie McNamara, once known as the Iron Man of six-day bike racing, is the first vice president of the American Cycling Union, a professional bicycle racing association.

BASE NO. 97 — Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers holds up the base he stole for his 97th theft of the season. It came in seventh inning against St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis. It was his second steal of the game, the 156th played to a decision by the Dodgers. However, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick ruled earlier that Wills had to break Ty Cobb's record of 96 thefts in 154 decisions, the same as Cobb, although Cobb had 156 games because of two ties. Cobb stole one base in each of the replays.

McLain Re-Elected Flying B President At Field Day Event

Ed McLain was re-elected president of the Flying B Golf League at the conclusion of the loop's field day recently. Lloyd Lindquist was re-elected vice president.

John Pozniko was voted treasurer and Cy Albert, secretary. The Green Oil Co. won the league championship with 143 points. Members of the squad included Val Altomare, John Smith, Wink Miller, Bob Shaefer, Rudy Schuster, Ed Pukalski and team sponsor Richard Green.

Terry Rufer, John Pozniko, Ben Migliarina, Bill White, Ken Beall and George McCloskey paced Rufer's to second place in the loop with 133 points.

Fernengel's took team honors in the field day best ball event with a 52 score. Shaefer was the top medalist with a 69. Sarge Ulrich shot a 79-18-61 for low net.

Tribe Jolts Twins' Flag Hopes 5-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tuesday night's victory by the Cleveland Indians not only helped kill Minnesota's pennant hopes, it pushed the Tribe into undisputed possession of sixth place in the American League.

The Indians trounced the Twins 5-1 while New York was beating Washington, leaving Minnesota 5½ games behind the Yankees with only three games to play.

A two-run homer by Woodie Held — his 19th of the season — gave the Indians a 2-1 lead in the second inning. That was all they needed, but they picked up three more runs in a wild third inning.

The Indians started that inning by loading the bases with two singles and a walk. Then Camilo Pascual, trying for his 20th victory walked Held, forcing Ty Cline home. A wild throw by shortstop Zorro Versalles let Walter Bond and John Romano score two more runs.

The sole Minnesota score was Harmon Killebrew's home run in the second.

Bond rapped three singles for the Indians to continue his hot streak since rejoining the Tribe last week he has batted .412.

The Indians are off today and Thursday. Friday night they start a four-game series with Los Angeles — the last four games of the season.

Paul Seeks Additional Tribe Stock

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul, affable general manager of the Cleveland Indians, is negotiating for a big block of stock in the Indians. Reports are that he and a group of associates will take control of the club within a month.

While Paul declined to discuss the matter — other than to say he was negotiating for a substantial interest and that he was not alone in the deal — club president William R. Daley added substance to the reports.

"Gabe now has the responsibility. . . Now he's in a position to call the shots. I've always felt the man with the responsibility should have a major financial interest in the operation. I've found it makes a big difference."

The transaction for 55 per cent of the stock will involve $3 million, the Cleveland Plain Dealer reported. This would put the total value of Indian stock at about $5.5 million.

Daley, whose group reportedly owns two-thirds of the Tribe's 6,000 shares, said he will "sell whatever number of shares are needed to give Gabe the amount he wants."

Major League Stars

BATTING — Mickey Mantle, Yankees, collected four singles and a walk in five at-bats, scoring twice and driving in two runs as New York clinched the American League pennant by beating Washington 8-3.

PITCHING — Warren Spahn, Braves, limited New York Mets to seven hits in 7½ victory, posting the 326th triumph of his career and moving into a tie with Eddie Plank as the winningest left-hander in major league history.

Eagles Test Browns Pass Defense Next

CLEVELAND (AP) — There isn't much doubt in the minds of the Cleveland Browns that Sunday's game against the Philadelphia Eagles at Franklin Field will severely test the Browns' pass defense.

Sonny Jurgensen, Philadelphia quarterback, has been the league's most prolific passer in the Eagles' losses to St. Louis and New York. His 57 tosses against the Giants last Sunday came within three of tying the National Football League mark.

Philadelphia is way out in front in the NFL in yards gained through the air with 638. However, they have made just 65 net yards rushing.

This is basically the same team that beat the Browns 27-20 in the opening game last year, only to lose to the Browns 45-24 in the return match at the stadium here.

The targets for Jurgensen's passes are ends Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Walston, flanker Tommy McDonald and back Tim Brown.

opening-of-the-season average of Minnesota over Missouri: The Big Eight team surprised the Gophers, who went on to win the Rose Bowl game, a year ago. This time the element of surprise will be gone, but so is Sandy Stephens. However, Minnesota has enough left.

Alabama over Tulane: The Alabama defense is as tough as a dollar steak.

Washington over Illinois: The Huskies, like the New York baseball Yankees have an M-M combination. For Washington the names are Mitchell and Mansfield.

Texas over Texas Tech: Without trouble. Southern California over Southern Methodist: The Trojans learned how by spilling Duke last week.

Clemson over North Carolina State: Clemson has two quarterbacks and NC State no longer has Roman Gabriel.

Louisiana State over Rice: The Rice Owls spilled the Tigers last year but they can't do it two years in a row.

FICTION

JEENEY RAY by Iris Dornfeld. A heart-wrenching story of a girl who was "different" from birth, and who lived among people, little-educated and little-caring, who speak of her much as if she were an animal. Only her grandmother has the perspicacity to recognize that her mind is keen even though her body is agonizingly slow. The story follows her into adulthood and through a severe crisis when she is accused and tried for murder.

BOYAGE TO SANTA FE by Janice Holt Giles. A young bride and groom journey with a wagon-train from Arkansas to Santa Fe in the spring of 1823. A quite different setting from that usually chosen by this author.

FIRE ON THE MOUNTAIN by Edward Abbey. When Billy goes from his home in Pennsylvania to spend the summer with his grandfather in New Mexico, he finds the old man in a protracted feud with no less a power than the United States Government.

LET'S GO FOR BROKE by Mary Lasswell. This is the first "suds" book for eight long years. All of Mary Lasswell's fans will be anxious to see what the three elderly ladies with an inordinate fondness for beer are up to now.

GILLIGAN'S LAST ELEPHANT by Gerald Hanley. A well-recommended story of two "white hunters" vying against each other as well as the great beasts which they were hunting.

ACT OF ANGER by Bart Spicer. A court-appointed lawyer defends an unknown young man who is accused of murder. He accepts the challenge with great seriousness and the things he uncovers about all sorts of people in the community make a tense story—sometimes shocking, sometimes brutal, some times pitiful.

GRIFFIN'S WAY by Frank Yerby. Mississippi in the days shortly after the Civil War is the background for a story of many complications. A trained nurse who is a Northerner is hired to try to heal the mind of Paris Griffin, withdrawn into a world of his own ever since the war. There is the story of the relationship between these two, their respective spouses and close relatives. Woven in and around is also the much more deftly told story of the Negroes and their struggle to better their conditions, and the people who try to help or to hinder them.

MASTER OF CASTILE by Samuel Edwards. The romanticized story of the career of Alvaro de Luna, Chief Constable of Castile during the tearful part of the fifteenth century.

THE DRIVEN by Donald Stuart. A story about a cattle drive, but based in Australia rather than the Western U.S., and much better writing than one finds in so-called "Westerns".

SPANISH GRANT by L. L. Foreman. A feud is ended when the fighters team up to rescue a woman being manhandled during a stage hold-up.

NON-FICTION

EXPERIENCING AND THE CREATION OF MEANING by Eugene T. Gendlin. This is a work involving both philosophy and psychology, and is therefore meant for study. The simplest way the author expresses his subject is when he says that he is talking about "experiencing" as one would think of the difference between a message being reproduced by playing a phonograph record and by a person speaking.

SANGSTER'S SPECIAL DAY SERMONS, by W. E. Sangster. Messages for the various religious special days of the year as written by a well-known British Methodist minister.

BUT NOT NEXT DOOR by Harry and David Rosen. Two men trained as social workers write about what happened in Deerfield, Illinois when an integrated housing project was planned for the previously all-white suburb of Chicago.

A SIMPLIFIED PHYSIOLOGY OF THE HUMAN BODY by Der-yck Tavernier. Like the average book designed in any country except the United States, this foregoes glamour and color in illustration but makes up for it with the excellence of its text and the clarity of its diagrams.

THE NO COOKING COOKBOOK by Lillian Langseth-Christensen. How to prepare dishes of all kinds which taste wonderful, but take very little time to prepare. And don't take the NO COOKING part of the title too literally.

COUNTERPOINT by Kent Kennan. One of the many titles being purchased this year to broaden and improve the music collection of the library.

POLAND by Paul Cazin. As with most Russian satellite countries, books in English about them appear infrequently. This one consists largely of well-chosen and beautiful photographs plus about thirty pages of text by a Frenchman who is an admirer of the Polish people.

WENDELL PHILLIPS, BRAHMIN RADICAL by Irving H. Bartlett. The life of one of the most famous of the Abolitionists, a man whose birth and up-bringing was likely to have made him one of the most conservative of the conservatives. But Wendell Phillips fell in love with Ann Terry Greene, married her, and from that time forward his opinions of the Canfield Tractor Sales recently attended a showing of 1963 tractors and a banquet at the Cobo Arena in Detroit, Mich.

It'll Be Factor In Congressional Contests

Farm Problem Vs. Election

The 202-to-197 vote by which the House of Representatives approved the compromise Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 gives a good indication of how big and close an issue the farm problem will be in this year's congressional election.

It will be strictly a party line battle. Only two Republicans supported the program put forward by President Kennedy and Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. The opposition came from 160 Republicans and 37 Southern and big city Democrats.

Republicans may claim they won a big victory in that the legislation finally approved is only a small part of what the administration wanted and started out to get early this year.

But before taking this action the House definitely killed off by a 163-to-104 vote a GOP effort to go back to the Benson plan of a $1.05 support price on corn with unlimited production.

THE NEW LEGISLATION will in effect set up support prices of $2 a bushel for wheat, $1.20 for corn, including an 18-cents-a-bushel bonus payment in kind for farmers who co-operate with the programs and stay in compliance on production controls.

So for the long haul, the administration is getting a good start on its program. Its two-price, certificate plan for wheat production will go into full effect for the 1964 crop.

The temporary feed grain program now in effect is extended for another year. A longer-range program will have to be considered by Congress next year.

There is nothing in the new legislation on cotton or dairy products. Both will have to be taken up by the next congress.

But there is a definite start on the "land use" program which Freeman proposes, to take 50 million acres of cropland out of production by 1970.

The new program will provide federal assistance loans and grants to local communities to convert unneeded acreage to recreational and other nonfarm uses.

So the new farm legislation is by no means a defeat for the administration, even though Congress did kill the full program on the first round by another close 215-to-205 vote three months ago.

THE PRESSURE on Congress to keep it killed in the last battle was terrific. American Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman used all the influence of his 1.6 million-member organization that he could muster to defeat the watered-down, compromise version which the House finally passed. Leaders of both parties agreed in advance that the Senate would also accept this bill.

Farm belt Republican candidates are nevertheless expected to go into the campaign charging that the new legislation provides for regimentation of American agriculture on a scale never before attempted. It is being branded as a new Brannan plan.

The Republicans are also expecting to get considerable campaign mileage out of references to the Billie Sol Estes scandal.

The Democratic reply to these charges is outlined in a letter which Freeman sent to all members of Congress as a reply to the Farm Bureau attack on him and his program.

BUMPER CROP — A. G. Hammond, 77, displays one of 500 heavily laden apple trees in his orchard near Vinland, Kan. He thinks he may have a world record in a York Imperial tree which produced 61 bushels. Science has provided growers with a waxlike spray which helps hold the apple to the limb until it comes to the right color and taste.

3 Fined, 3 Leave Bonds In Lisbon

LISBON—Three motorists were fined a total of $15 and costs Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald, and three others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear for hearings.

Russell Vebulun, 26, Lisbon RD 3, was fined $5 for crossing a yellow line; Morris M. Bett, 62, Minerva RD, $5, failure to yield right of way, and Harold E. Hawkins, 27, Wellsville RD, $5, defective muffler.

Forfeiting $15 bonds each for speeding were Sherman K. Glasscock, 27, North Madison; Robert R. Firestone, 26, Geneva, and Merle Lyle, 35, Maple Heights.

FILES LAND SUIT

LISBON — The Ohio Highway Department Tuesday filed an offer in the clerk of courts office at Lisbon for land required for the improvement of Route 30 in East Liverpool. Negotiations having failed, the state took this step as a prelude to condemnation proceedings.

For a parcel of land of more than nine acres owned by Carrie B. Merrill, et al, East Liverpool, the state offered $100.

The owner has 15 days in which to appeal or accept the amount.

THAT'S ALL HE WANTED

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A heavy sheet of cardboard fluttered down beside Dade County's six-story public safety building. It bore one word: "help"

Police investigated. They found the appeal had been tossed down by Wally Livingston, a county health department employee who daily checks a radioactive fallout gauge on the roof.

Livingston had inadvertently locked himself out on the roof. Police opened the door.

Sunday morning in many Mexico cities is traditionally reserved for a type of rodeo-fiesta combining dancing and daring feats of horsemanship.
